

KERR:HEALTH

• Like a Breath of Fresh Air •

At Kerr Health, we understand the challenges that couples with fertility problems face. Our highly trained and compassionate staff provide unparalleled support for your patients as they navigate their often-complicated medication regimens. We see ourselves as an extension of your practice, providing the thoughtful, individualized care your patients need during infertility treatment and through pregnancy.

Specialty Pharmacy Services

Kerr Health is an industry leader in specialty pharmaceuticals. We stay abreast of emerging trends in fertility treatment and have access to the latest drugs. Our fertility-trained clinical pharmacists are available to discuss with you the treatment plan you designed and will ensure your patient has each drug she needs, when she needs it.

Nurse Liaison

Coordinating care for your patients is our fertility liaison, a nurse with 18 years' experience in fertility practice. She handles matters like obtaining products, interacting with manufacturer representatives, and answering questions from your staff about dosing and patient-specific protocols. She can also conduct infertility treatment patient-education classes in your facility, from the basics of the female reproductive cycle to how to administer fertility drugs.

KERR HEALTH

Kerr Health Patient Care Advocates

At the heart of Kerr Health's individualized patient care are our dedicated patient care advocates. These specially-trained staff are available to answer patients' questions about their medications and to discuss other concerns. They work closely with our clinical pharmacists and our nurse liaison to resolve issues—and they're only a phone call away.

We Expect the Unexpected

Kerr Health understands the unpredictable nature of infertility treatment and the critical role of timing in achieving the goal of a healthy pregnancy. Kerr Health pharmacists and staff are experienced at dealing with crises and will guide your patient safely through any medication-related problems that arise. We have the specialty drugs she needs on hand and can even deliver them to her home within hours.

There is always a Kerr Health nurse available to give patient injections if the situation requires this level of care. And that's just one of the advantages of dealing with a pharmacy local to your area. Some other advantages are:

- We have the drugs your patient needs right here, in stock, not in a warehouse 2 or 3 days away.
- We are available to you, your staff, and your patients 24 hours every day.
- We can provide personal teaching for your staff and patients, not just a referral to a Web site.

Your patients' welfare is our highest concern. Next to your own expertise, the Kerr Health support team may be one of your most valuable assets in providing your patients with the best possible care. Kerr Health is your partner.
